He ran his own appliance repair business and aspired to be a great musician, and to most of us he was. He was brilliant when it came to saying the right things at the right time, and always had a way of making you see a better way. He was kind, caring, sensitive to others, wise, thoughtful, a teacher, a mentor, our family's biggest supporter, a comedian most days, and never failed to let us know how much he loved us. He created a hard act to follow with all of his wonderful traits and wisdom. He may not have been perfect, but he was perfect for our “Alsip Clan.” He was a one-of-a-kind, unique soul that could never be replaced. He was the best husband, father, friend and Papi. All who knew him were blessed.

A celebration of life will be held at a later date.
