

Margaret Price Heck

November 3, 1928 – April 12, 2023

Margaret Price Heck entered eternal life at the age of 94 on Wednesday, April 12th, 2023. Miggette, as she was known by family and friends, was born on November 3, 1928 in Baywood, Louisiana. She and her late husband, Wallace, Sr were lifelong residents of Baton Rouge where they raised their four children, and ventured into entrepreneurship beginning in 1953. Miggette was quite a character, bold in spirit and never bashful with her thoughts. She believed in hard work, loved her family fiercely and believed in taking care of those in need. She and Wallace, Sr never shied away from a business opportunity beginning with Plumbing by Heck, Furniture by Heck, Drugs by Heck, Jewelry by Heck, All State Pawn, Heck Nursery, Clothing by Heck, All State Building Materials, Altex Ready Mix Concrete, All Steel, Better Electric, Better Heating & Air-conditioning and Heck Industries, to name a few. There were also many agricultural and livestock ventures, the most noteworthy being Heck Farms. After Wallace, Sr became very ill, Miggette gifted him a pair of thoroughbred brood mares. A dream of his was to own race horses and by the time the two were finished building the state of the art facility on Greenwell Springs Rd, they owned 267 race horses. They were quite a pair! She was much more at home on a tractor, on a horse, or doing yard work rather than cleaning house. She could make a sailor blush, and was just as direct and colorful in her zest for life. As tough as she was on the outside, her heart was full of compassion. She was always there for any family member in need. She was an avid seamstress and enjoyed quilting, sewing and cooking with her sisters. She was one of a kind and her quick wit and sass will be sorely missed, along with the cup of coffee she was always eager to share. Miggette is survived by three of her children, Wallace, Jr and wife Cristy, Raymond Heck, Janet Heck; grandchildren Heather Heck Smith (Scott), Melissa Heck Brown (Bill), Misty Heck Lyngaas (Jason), Lesa Pino, Ryan Eugene Heck(Loredana),
